“ This is something Gram would want me to share with all of you. She always enjoyed saying this for a good laugh.

Did I tell you that I have four boyfriends?

I am 97 years old.

Never drank a day in my life.

Never smoked a day in my life.

And I didn't eat meat.

But I do have four boyfriends!

I get up in the morning with Will. That's Will Power.

I go for a walk with Art. That's Arthritis.

I come home with Charlie. That's Charlie Horse.

And I go to bed with Ben. That's Ben Gay.

“ I have only know Arvilla for a short time but to me it was a lifetime of great memories. People come in into our lives for a reason and I am so happy you made it into mine! I was privileged to take care of you Arvilla, and your family. I know you will be "watching me"! Rest in peace sweet lady. Prayers for you and your family.

“ Some of my favorite memories with Gram were hearing a story of her childhood every morning when I would go in her bedroom, making peanut butter eggs with her, going to the beach and walking on the boardwalk, having her make me breakfast, teaming up against my Mom and Grammy when we played rummy, throwing a new years eve party, going through her photo albums together, walking around the dollar tree, playing hide and seek, cleaning the house, go for a ride in the car to Brady's Lake, the three stooges in my bed, doing Easter egg hunts, planting tomatoes, and last but certainly not least, just sitting and watching TV with her every night before bed. I love you Gram and I will never forget you. Love Chelsea. XOXO
