“ Robin was my friend and mentor. I enjoyed working for her for 7 years in her private practice, and she taught me many valuable lessons that I still enjoy and employ to this day. I wouldn't have made it as far as I have in my life today without her guidance and friendship.

“ Robin was one of a handful of lawyers who visited my district court that I was always glad to see. She was professional, reasonable and caring about the people she represented and respectful to the court. But, it was the time before and after all the official business was conducted that I will remember. It was always a pleasure to speak with Robin and share her wisdom and her terrific sense of humor. I will always have very fond memories of Robin.
