“ Dear Jen, James & James Jr,

We are so sorry for your loss of Vincent, there are no words to help the sorrow and pain this brings to you and your family. Our thoughts are with you during this terribly sad time, we knew Vincent & cant imagine he has gone at such a young age. He will always be remembered & thought of during the good times he had with you Our deepest sympathies to you and your family

“ I remember the first we faceted, talking about our love for motorcycles about how he loved to ride, and how the club saved him and helped him in the right direction of bettering himself getting a job. And how I was a lot like him. He gave me great advice even though he was younger than me. I saw he was sharing with me knowledge of how to act around club individuals like the ones my unk introduced me to. I was first learning and deeply appreciated him for offering me help when he didn't have to. I remember talking with him telling him how I can't wait to have my first harley and now that I have it I won't get to take a ride to meet with him and ride around and just lost track of time. I was looking forward to it and taking him out to buy drinks and food, my treat for the wisdom he shared to help me in my journey in life. The few hardships we both once had in common and bettering ourselves. It truly sucks I'll never get to thank him like I wanted to in person. ML&R bub my condolences to you and your father and rest of your family as you told me how thankful you were of your father. May your memory live on forever in the hearts and minds of all the individuals you forever changed and was at one time or another a part of their lives even if it was for a little. You was a respectful young man and that more than I can say about a lot of people our age bro. Maybe I'll see you in the next life or whatever comes and thank you there.
